OVERVIEW

The Summer School “Consumer’s Rights and Market Regulation in the European Union” is organized by the Università degli Studi di Udine in cooperation with an international consortium including De Montfort University (UK), University of Essex (UK), University of West Timisoara (Romania), European Law Faculty of Nova Gorica (Slovenia), and University of Belgrade (Serbia).

The lectures will be held in English language and will focus on some of the most relevant aspects related to consumer protection and market regulation in the European Union Law, such as:

- General consumer protection law - the EU Directive on Consumer Rights;
- B2C contracts, unfair terms in B2C contracts and unfair commercial practices
- Specific contracts - consumer sales, consumer credit;
- On-line auctions;
- Financial services and protection of private investors;
- Consumer protection in international relationships - applicable law, jurisdiction, trans-border enforcement.

Objectives:

- To offer a quality and intensive training in consumer law, focusing on transnational developments at the EU level;
- To promote the sharing of knowledge, experiences and practices between participants from different countries and to encourage comparison between legislative solutions;
- To provide students with a solid and high-quality knowledge on course’s topic and help them in developing incisive reasoning skills and other soft skills such as team working, problem solving and argumentative reasoning;
- To consolidate an international network of expertise in consumer law.

After completing the Summer School, students will have a good command of EU consumer protection rules and they will be able to identify whether or not EU consumer law governs a given situation and, if it does, which rules apply, in conjunction with national law.

Selected students will not pay any tuition fee.
