

BLENDING INTENSIVE PROGRAMME

NURSING ETHICS IN OUR DAYS

The Conference offers participants the opportunity to advance their knowledge regarding Ethics in Nursing Care.

Specifically, the key learning objectives are:

- To update knowledge regarding current nursing ethics issues and emerging challenges;
- To advance knowledge on factors promoting moral competence in nursing and instruments assessing moral competence;
- To deepen teaching and learning strategies to promote effective moral competences in undergraduate and continuing professional education courses;
- To identify and debate emerging ethical challenges in the clinical practice, management, education and research fields;
- To deepen the potentialities of the PROMOCON project outcomes;
- To establish potential lines of research and cooperation across universities in Europe.
